

Homecoming 'steps' up Peay pride

Staff Reports

- Winners of events at this year's 2007 Homecoming included King Ed Hadley III and Queen Megan Cleghern.
- Omega Psi Phi fraternity won first place in the Sept. 22 Step Show. Delta Sigma Theta won first place sorority in the Step Show. Alpha Kappa Alpha won best overall performance.
- Sigma Phi Epsilon and Alpha Sigma Alpha won for best homecoming float.
- Kappa Sigma won the Wyatt Spirit Award and also was winner of the banner contest with Alpha Delta Pi.
- Woodward Library won for the best building decoration.
- Other event winners included Del Square Psi for the chili cook-off. Tra Faulkner took home a first place award for his AP Apollo performance. ♦

-Source: Student Life and Leadership Web site
www.apsu.edu/ssl/homecoming

PHOTOS BY PATRICK ARMSTRONG/ASSISTANT FEATURES EDITOR
GRAPHIC BY DUSTIN RAMBER/ART DIRECTOR

New Web site offers one stop shop for student resources

By ELIZABETH BRUCE
Assistant online editor

AP OneStop is a new online Web site that links all Austin Peay State University information in one place. It provides daily campus announcements, connects students to the Woodward Library, and links to all course homepages with the ability to e-mail professors.

The Web site consists of five sections, the first of which displays daily announcements, weather and an events calendar.

It also contains a Yahoo search engine and an "Ask the Gov" site navigator.

The second section of AP OneStop is all about campus life.

It contains an athletics event calendar, various movie listings throughout the state, as well as weekly menus to all campus dining.

Woodward Library also has its own section of AP OneStop.

Their entire catalog of books, electronic media and periodicals is available for search. This is an all inclusive APSU site. ♦

"Sounds like the main page. It sounds cool to make the main page, but redundant if you're not a student worker."
—Lauren Martin, freshman, pre-law

"Is that the crappy thing on the Web site?"
—Wes Ikner, sophomore, geology

"It's a new way for us to be lazy; it's obviously too much work to go to more sites."
—Stoney Grimes, sophomore, political science

"It's nice having everything on one page; sounds worth looking in to."
—Greg Brown, graduate student, education

"It's nice having everything on one page; sounds worth looking in to."
—Lee Carpenter, freshman, business management

"If more teachers use it, I'd use it."
—Ray Moyer, freshman, criminal justice

Perspectives

Civil liberties.

Features

Chi Omega and Make-A-Wish make boy's dream come true.

Sports

Monique Wong hits game winning goal against Winthrop

Online

New snapshot of the day posted everyday except Sundays

FYI

♦ Fall break is in two weeks, start studying for upcoming mid-terms.